

Log Your Commute!

- Use the “Logger of the Week” poster included in the toolkit to spotlight those employees who are keeping track of their commutes! There are 2 different versions. One you can simply print off and hang, the other open in Word and place a photo of your employee in the blank space to make it even more personal!

- Another fun way of doing “Logger of the Week” is if you can find a piece of wood, maybe a large branch from a tree that you can cut down to a small 10” piece or shorter. Each week you can check your employee’s calendars and whoever has logged the most trips will get to have the “Logger of the Week” Trophy until you check again the following week.
- If you have a budget, buy some #2 pencils. If you can find the ones that have been left their natural color like the one below it adds to the theme. Hand the pencils out to your employees who’ve been logging their commute and say “Thanks for stick-ing to it!”
